

Friends of the Swift River Valley Historical Society

Swift River Valley Historical Society was formally organized for the purpose of preserving artifacts, records, and memories from the towns of Dana, Enfield, Greenwich and Prescott as well as the several villages including Millington, which was actually a part of New Salem. These towns ceased to exist at 12:01 on April 28, 1938 when they became the bed of the great Quabbin Reservoir. The goals of SRVHS as always are:

To encourage a love of research.

To collect, preserve and display items from Valley homes and families.

To make genealogical records available and assist in searches whenever possible.

To serve as a learning tool for school children and others interested in learning about a way of life in early New England.

THE NEXT 85

2023 will see the 85th anniversary of the disincorporation of the four towns of Dana, Prescott, Greenwich and Enfield. As we look toward the future, if you are in a position to contribute, please consider giving at the Ind/Household, Associate, Sustaining, Patron, Sponsor or Leadership levels. Any amount, large or small, will help assure our stewardship for the next 85 years. Thank you!
